ITEM 6. New Business

- a. 214 W. 10th Street – Downtown Historic District

Stacy summarized the history of the two buildings, one that was the Scott Printing Building that housed the Sioux Falls Journal, the oldest newspaper in Sioux Falls, established in 1876. Little is known about the second building, other than it was occupied as a Funeral Business. Historic photos showed that Fred the Fixer later occupied the building where they also sold bicycles, guns and made keys.

Stacy reviewed the existing condition of the buildings as shown in photos. Discussion and questions by board members followed as noted below:

- Glass block will be removed on the west, three-story building and replaced with windows matching the historic photo.
- Original storefronts are currently bricked in and will be replaced with a glass storefront system.
- Rooftop patio was added when the building became Club David in 2006 and will continue as a rooftop patio with the proposed updates.
- Neither existing door are handicap accessible but will be modified to meet ADA standards.
- Brick detail at the cornice of the west building is original and will remain.
- Pella double hung windows will replace the glass block of the west building. Stacy initially thought they would be an aluminum clad wood window, but she is considering replacing with all wood windows. Either is acceptable, but specifications for the windows should be included with the drawings when submitted for a building permit.
- Fixed windows will replace the existing on the east façade of the east building. Drawings currently show arched windows, but when Member Halbach asked about them, Stacy clarified that they will be square windows with an arched wood header. After review of the meeting minutes Stacy replied that the windows on the east façade will be arched.
- The fourth window on the north end of the east façade will remain with a brick in-fill since it is where the electrical service is located on the interior.
- The railing for the rooftop patio was added in 2006 and will be replaced.
- Rooftop equipment will be screened but has not been identified as to how it will appear.
- Canopies will likely be added to the south façade as shown in historic images, but not shown in current drawings.
- Drawings indicated a brick base with wood storefront will replace the existing storefronts on the south façade and around the corner to the east. Stacy clarified that in lieu of brick and the potential for damage due to snow removal and salts used at the sidewalk, concrete will be used. Wood base will match what was originally shown in historic photos.

After some additional discussion by the board, Member Halbach made the motion that the renovation to the two proposed buildings in the Downtown Historic District would have a non-adverse effect with the amendment that drawings are updated to identify the brick/base detail at the storefront and the east windows are shown as square with the arched wood filler at the top. Member Remmers seconded the motion and the motion passed. Member Hazard abstained from voting.

The applicant should resubmit plans with the noted updates.

ITEM 7. Other Business

- a. Preservation Planning Handbook was included in the packet mailed out and Diane asked that board members begin reviewing the information for future discussion.
- b. Chair and Vice Chair election.

Member Remmers made the motion that Member Nyhaug and Member Renken continue to serve a second year in their positions if they were agreeable. They confirmed that they were, and Member Halbach seconded the motion. The motion passed unanimously.
